Due to modern technology and present age of e-governance, there is a need of strengthening the office establishment on the modern lines in order to meet the recent trends. Further the State of J&K is initiating the e-governance concept in the State administration in order to make the services of departments more transparent, accountable and result oriented. Besides, the digitization of official records have been taken up in the hand for its uploading in the Departmental website in view of the Right to Information Act being implemented in the State. For which Department requires update information, hard copies, email and day to day work of office for transferring/ receiving information from one office to another office. For this purpose Department needs to purchase Computers, Laptops, Fax Machines, Photostat Machines, Camera etc for the Head office, Divisional Offices, District Offices, Training Centres, etc. for office automation.
